KIDD'S STORE.

—Water has for several weeks been in urgent demand in our neighborhood and every Green River is little more than a reminiscence.

—Emmett McCormack has been alarmingly ill the past week, but is thought to be greatly better at this time. Mrs. Critt Rife has been ill of a mild attack of typhoid fever, but is convalescent.

—The college building on Chelf's Ridge caught fire through a defective pipe last Tuesday and was barely saved by most opportune arrival of stalwart neighbors, who substituted battering rams for water and unroofed the greater portion of side of the building. The faculty and pupils were helpless and for a while shelterless.

—The old time method of building a furnace of kettles and evaporating sorghum juice with an expert skimmer assigned each kettle was partially superseded by home made evaporators built after the style of a box for scalding hogs, but the intricately partitioned and perforated article from a manufactory has at last forced recognition and adoption and the country is redolent of boiling sorghum juice. And if any skeptic needs confirmation of the vast superiority of sorghum molasses to any other brand he is recommended to W. D. Stagg, of this town, who is both an enthusiast and experimenter.

—When farmers recognized the "patter, patter" on the roof Monday morning there was a unanimous "let her pour" sent up from delighted thousands, but old Pluvius was entirely too modest for the emergency and the cry is for more. The Methusalahs don't remember to have ever seen river and creek pools so nearly all dry, nor so many severe frosts as a sudden climax to a September, which discounted the average in intense heat and drought. As we were blessed with seasonable rains throughout summer and vegetation remained luxuriant, whilst even the wet weather streams maintained a flow, the rapid transition to parched vegetation and dry stream beds is just a little too much for Horatio's speculative philosophy.

—Gen. Hardin's appointment drew an unusually large crowd to Liberty last Monday. Especially large in view of inclemency and absence of other attractions. The court house was well filled with intelligent and courteous representatives of both political parties (the A. P. A. not in it yet in Casey) who evidently came to hear and the speaker was as evidently inspired by the occasion to one of his best efforts, for 2½ hours were devoted to discussion of statistics and the crowd wanted more. The republican candidates who have filled appointments recently at Liberty didn't draw, except a score or so of democrats curious to inspect the countenance of a nominee who like his boss, Billy O., hasn't sand enough to meet his competitor on the stump. Gen. Hardin had been advised of Mr. Bradley's demagogic since the deserter began bushwhacking, and after a declaration of intention to use only facts and an invitation to all to correct when mistaken or inquire when obscure proceeded to skin the skulker with the tenderness of an Abraham sacrificing a ram. Casey county republicans are not loud in condemnation of the Eminence affair, nor apologetic of their nominee's cowardice. Nor are Casey democrats sharpening a stiletto for their nominee because he doesn't accept every creed to which they are committed, any more than they will proscribe him because he doesn't chew long green tobacco. Casey democrats boast that even John G. Carlisle has discovered and confessed himself mistaken on vital party matters and may be the humblest of us are not always infallibly right. We don't care a darn whether Gen. Hardin uses salt or sugar on his tomatoes. The enthusiasm in Casey is truly refreshing and a visit to the sublimated democracy of Liberty and Casey county is recommended to every melancholic democrat who isn't perfectly satisfied with Wat Hardin's occasionally overlooking the salt spoon and butter knife in a fit of abstraction. Casey's enthusiasm should become epidemic and the democratic ticket will go through with a whoop which will paralyze the rads beyond recovery.

Gen. Hardin reached Liberty at 11 o'clock after a 20 mile drive through showers, but the cordial welcome to a cheerful fire and excellent dinner by Col. Boyle Stone and wife, convinced him that there is much in life worth living for, aside from political enthusiasm and success, as he evidenced more than once in his speech when he dropped into a moralizing strain.

The Darlington, W. Va., Journal says editorially of a popular patent medicine: "We know from experience that Chamberlain's Cold and Rheumatic Remedy is all that is claimed for it, as on several occasions it stopped excruciating pains and positively saved us from an untimely grave. We would not rest easy over night without it in the house." This remedy undoubtedly adds more pain and suffering than any other medicine in the house, for it is sure to be needed sooner or later. ## HUSTONVILLE.

—Mr. Sam Logan has moved his hardware shop from up stairs over Steele's grocery.

—Several acres of tobacco were caught out in the frosts of last week, but the crop generally had been housed.

—Last Saturday probably the last installment of watermelons was brought to town. They have been plentiful and cheap.

—Ed Carpenter shipped 123 lambs and ewes to Cincinnati Tuesday. Jas. Powell sold two large, fat sows for a fancy price Tuesday to a butcher.

—Rev. Stanford M. Logan, of Stanford, will preach next Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church here and Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Presbyterian church at McKinney.

—Judge Camnitz began to paint the Masonic Hall last Monday and in order to protect himself from the chronic information seeker put up the following sign written in large letters, "This house will be painted red; three coats."

—Millard Allen has been trying to knock the bottom out of his well with giant powder in order to get a supply of water, but so far has been unsuccessful. C. O. Van Arsdale has also been blasting out a well on his mill premises, but has not struck water as yet.

—Hawkers of beef are getting pretty numerous in our locality. One day last week two different parties from Moreland were urging the juicy points of the corn fed animals upon the acceptance of our citizens. Notwithstanding Uncle Will Reid pursues business at the old stand every day in the week.

—Louis Van Arsdale, little son of C. O. Van Arsdale, is housed for the present with an attack of boils. An 18 month old daughter of Wallace Steele has been quite sick, but is improving. Miss Ora Wright is out again after a long spell of typhoid fever. Nellie Adams, who has been sick of the typhoid fever, has now fully recovered. John Harmon is quite low.

—James Allen, president of the Hustonville Fishing Club, had the Commissioner send him a consignment of young fish to place in waters here. James P. Goode, a member of the club, placed 200 black bass in the fine pond of Benjamin Goode, near Turnersville, Tuesday. The club has been instrumental in putting 5,000 bass and other game fish in the waters of Green River in the last two years, but they were nearly all destroyed while small by reckless seining and dynamiting.

—Among the changes taking place in this community this Fall, we regret to note that which affects our esteemed fellow citizen of Moreland, Mr. Ed. H. Edwards, who expects to dispose of his farm and remove his family to Cincinnati. While Mr. Edwards' business has confined him rather closely to the Commercial Gazette office in Cincinnati, yet he has been among us enough for us to appreciate his many fine qualities and make us loath to give him up entirely to the Buckeyes.

—We have rather been out of politics in this neck o' the woods, but the Hon. P. Wat Hardin's Liberty speech Monday brought us near enough to the battle to hear the roar of the big guns. We don't get excited though except when Col. Josh Swope plants his flag, flings out its silvery folds to the breeze unlimbers his guns, rams home solid 16 to 1 shot and turns his battery on the murderers (at the witching hour of midnight) of the pale face dollar—then the sound money men flee to the woods and the gold bugs get themselves to the mountains of Hesipha.

—Geo. W. Ryan, of Somerset, has been visiting here several days. Mrs. J. G. Weatherford and interesting children of Milldale, are visiting relatives here. Uriah Dunn came in from Barnwell, S. C., Thursday in order to attend the Reid sale of stock Saturday. He looks well after wintering in the South and reports Jess on top. W. S. Tuney, the polite and accommodating conductor on the Q. & C., was at John Harmon's a few days last week on a visit to his baby son, who makes his home with Miss Mollie Harmon since the death of Mr. Tuney's wife last Spring. Anthony Hunn, of Columbia, dropped in on last week with a bunch of cattle for shipment and a hearty greeting for his old friends. He was suffering with a muscular trouble in his right leg, which seriously lame him. Emmett McCormack is the first in our community to have that fashionable disease, appendicitis. We hope that we may soon have the pleasure of seeing him stirring around again. Geo. Weatherford, who has been visiting relatives here for a few days, returned to Somerset Monday. Mrs. McCarthy, mother of Mrs. Chas. Wheeler, is making her home with her daughter here. We note the presence among us of our genial young friend, Lea Reid, on a visit to relatives and friends. Mrs. Greenwood, of Missouri, formerly of this place, who has been visiting Mrs. R. B. McKinney, has returned home. Mrs. Geo. Drye, of Middleburg, who is visiting Mrs. John Reid, is quite ill. Rex Reid has resigned his position at Somerset and returned to this place and the friends of his youth

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF LINCOLN COUNTY.

The first year of the first republican administration of fiscal affairs in the history of Lincoln county has just ended. Their books have just been adjusted and the yearly account stated. It will be instructive to that class of people who foot the bills to enquire how this party has kept its loud-mouthed professions of economy and reform, and how its methods compare with "the extravagance and mismanagement" of the democrats, about which we are hearing so much now-a-days from certain disinterested patriots.

From the minutes of the court of claims, controlled by our republican friends, it appears that the expenses of the county for the year ending Oct. 1, 1895, amounted to the sum of $13,753.36. This is the highest expense account we have ever had to settle. Take the preceding five years to go back no further, for comparison.

The claims allowed for 1894 $12,940.80.

" " " 1893, 8,757.20.

" " " 1892, 9,607.90.

" " " 1891, 11,961.47.

" " " 1890, 10,987.68.

Total for five years under democratic magistrates. $56,255.05.

Divide this by five—the number of years—and we have the average annual expenditures for county purposes at $11,251.

Here then we have an increase in county expenses of $2,502. Officers salaries have been no longer, the paupers have been no better cared for, the roads have been no more effectively worked; indeed, there is much complaint that they have not been worked so well. There has certainly been no better service rendered, and yet it has cost us 21 per cent more, and that too in the first blushing honeymoon of the new Era of Honesty and Reform. If we get this result in the green what may we expect in the dry?

The republicans are still hanging fire over a candidate for the Legislature. Capt. Wm. Herndon has declined the nomination, but some of his friends think there is still some probability that this party will do if it should get control of the whole State.

—Postmaster James I. Hamilton came across quite a valuable relic a few days ago in the way of a $55 Spanish note. He purchased the bill for a small sum and hopes to realize quite a premium upon it, since one has been offered.

—Mrs. Mattie Bushy, a sister of Mrs. W. N. Bush, of this place, has decided to locate in Williamsburg, where she has opened out a confectionery establishment. Misses Eugenia and Barbara Allen have joined her and expect to enter college at that place.

—Mrs. Mary Cunningham's new two-story frame dwelling is going up rapidly. It will be a nice convenient residence when completed with many late improvements and together with Mr. A. G. Scott's new house adjoining hers there will be quite an addition on depot street.

—Since the caving in of the tunnel on the main line, the R. R. through this place has many trains passing here night and day. Lancaster certainly has the appearance now of a city with 14 or 15 trains a day. It necessitates a night operator and one has been engaged in the person of Mr. Gibson, of Barboursville.

—Gen. W. J. Landram's condition is hopeless in the extreme. He continues to grow weaker and remains in an unconscious state all of the time and his death now is momentarily expected. It seems now that his friends and loved ones have given up all hope of his recovery for it seems as if the brittle thread of life will soon be torn asunder for him.

—Miss Ella May Farris surprised her many friends here and elsewhere by her marriage on Monday. She was married in Lexington a few days ago to Mr. Holmes, a young man of Lexington, employed in the Southern depot as freight messenger at a good salary. Miss Farris together with her parents always resided in Lancaster until about two years ago, when they moved to Lexington to live. Miss Farris was in her 16th year, just budding into glorious womanhood, when she was captured. Being the only child of her parents, her marriage was quite a blow to them at first, since they were so little prepared for it. Mr. Holmes is to be congratulated though upon the pretty, attractive wife he won.

—C. M. Richardson, of Somerset, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Sweeney. Miss Bessie Bush left Tuesday to visit relatives at Atlanta and to attend the Southern exposition. She will protract her stay probably all winter. Miss Mary Adams, of Hustonville, was the guest of her friend, Miss Lizzie Thompson, on Tuesday. Miss Doxie Moss, who has been attending school at Beaumont College, in Harrodsburg, is expected home to-day for a short visit. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Dunlap, of Lexington, were called here to the bedside of Gen. W. J. Landram, who is in a dying condition. Dr. W. N. Bush went to Harrodsburg Wednesday to bring his daughter, Miss Eugenia, home, who is reported quite sick. She has been there at school. Mr. W. C. Wherritt was in Louisville this week to see his wife who is in the city under medical treatment.

—Woodford county will vote next month on free turnpikes.

W. P. WALTON.

FREE speech is an unknown quantity in the benighted republican stronghold of Clay county. After Col. Bradley had spoken at Manchester and made some statements that a young democrat named Hinkle wished to counteract, he attempted to do so, when the republican ruffians headed by the county judge and sheriff attacked him with knives and pistols and would have killed him had not better counsel prevailed. Though guilty of no offense, except an effort to right a wrong placed upon his party, the cowardly thugs arrested him and a willing fool of a judge bound him over in $1,000 to keep the peace, which we suppose means that he must keep his mouth shut in regard to republican methods, no matter how scoundery they may be. The dispatch from Manchester which tells of this high-handed outrage concludes: "It is a pity that voters of Kentucky can not see how republican rule works in Clay county. It would banish every thought of republican domination in the State. One important county official is an ex-convict. One of the deputy sheriffs is a negro ex-convict. Another important official is under indictment for murder, and thousands of dollars are due the county from defaulting officials who have neither been punished nor made pay up." The way to prevent such things occurring elsewhere is to vote the democratic ticket. Let every lover of freedom of speech and of opinion do so and drive the party of proscription and tyranny to destruction.

The battle of Perryville, the 33d anniversary of which was celebrated Tuesday by a re-union of the soldiers who fought on both sides of that bloody conflict, was not only the most important of the 138 fought in Kentucky, but one of the great actions of the late war. Of the 25,000 Federal soldiers actually engaged, 4,000 were killed and wounded, while of the 15,000 Confederates who fought, 5,000 were lost by death or wounds. Those who remember the day say it was much such a one as last Tuesday. A drought had prevailed for months and water was so scarce that men and beast perished for want of it. There is a legend that the battle was precipitated by each army wishing to gain possession of a spring. At any rate the troops would have fought to the death for water before the conflict was over so desperate was their thirst and suffering.

The people of Indiana have gotten enough already of republican methods and on Tuesday in Indianapolis gave that party a very severe rebuke. Thomas Taggart, democratic candidate for mayor, and the entire ticket were elected by nearly 4,000 majority. The democrats have also a majority in the council. As Indianapolis is President Harrison's home, he did not state too soon that he was out of the race for the next presidential nomination. The kind of a damper as has just been thrown on him would have crushed any ambitions he may have had in that direction. The disgusting scenes in the last Legislature which was a intensely republican have made the democrats of Indiana determined to rescue her from the thralldom of that party.

The Covington grand jury is looking into the Goebel murder case again and it is hoped that an indictment will be found against the cowardly murderer of Bunker Sandford. If the bull-dozing bluffer who represents the district in the Senate could be made to pull hemp or wear stripes it would be a great victory for law and order, by showing the common people that they who stain their hands with the blood of their fellows shall suffer, no matter how high they stand financially, socially or politically.

The New York Press contains a good picture and a splendid write-up of Mr. Samuel Judson Roberts, the enterprising and accomplished editor of the Lexington Leader. Mr. Roberts' wonderful success with his paper in an uninviting field shows what energy and determination will do and marks him as a genius of unusual order. He is a gentleman too, every inch of him; and although a bitter partisan, never forgets that other people have rights and opinions that, when honest, are entitled to respect.

YESTERDAY was the 27th anniversary of the first Cuban attempt at liberty. Several have been made since, but the present effort is the most determined and promises to result in success. The people of this country are rapidly coming to sympathize with these subjects of a tyrannical dynasty and it begins to look like the United States will yet go to their rescue. Spain hasn't got any business owning Cuba, anyway. She naturally belongs to us.

GEN. MAHONE, the "hero of the crater" and of many other hard fought battles in war and peace, surrendered to the last enemy Tuesday and his demise marked the end of a most picturesque character. Had he not turned up as a Unionist and republican, for the sake of his office, Virginians would have been proud of him, but as it is he goes hence almost unwept, unhonored and unsung.

THE Frankfort Capital explains the possible reason that "self-respect and the autonomy of the democratic party prevent Judge Quincy Ward from supporting Gen. Hardin." It says that at the convention when friends of Clay saw he could not be nominated they tried to substitute Ward for both Clay and Hardin and that Gen. Hardin caught on in time and nipped the project in the bud. The judge hasn't forgiven him for it and the Capital is mean enough to charge that that may possibly, like Senator Lindsay puts it, made the judge mistake piqûre and disappointment for conviction. Better hang on to the old ship and vote the ticket straight. Some of those who are so excessively conscientious now will have "a heap of trouble by-and-by" explaining why they bolted, if they ever offer for office again.

In his speech at Columbia Congressman John W. Lewis said "if any democrat says I am a liar he is a liar himself." As no one had intimated that he was a liar Mr. Lewis was evidently suffering from a guilty conscience. Besides, when man is called a liar if he is a Kentuckian and has any grit he doesn't follow the Ohio style of saying "you are another," and think that that wipes out the insult, but goes for his accuser like a thousand of bricks. The 4th district Congressman is evidently a Don Quixote.

THE Carrollton Commercial, a republican paper, has suspended publication. Such an announcement was to be expected later, but it was thought that such concerns would hold on till after the election. The campaign fund must be running short or more likely the managers have found that it is a waste of printer's ink and white paper to use them in this fight. The average republican can not read and the majority of those who can do not do so.

AND Chattanooga too is redeemed! A year ago she gave H. Clay Evans 1,300 majority for governor. Tuesday she sent his candidate for mayor to grass by a majority of 97, although the issue was plainly joined whether or not the democrats should be rebuked for seating Turney as governor of the State over Evans. As his own home has gone back on him, Mr. Evans' little boost for the vice-presidency has gone glimmering, just like Brer. Bradley's will a month hence.

WHAT fools we mortals be! The old cracked Liberty bell, which jangles not at all, even out of tune, was accorded ovations all along the line from Philadelphia to Atlanta and tens of thousands of people gathered to do honor to the relic of the revolution, which is as carefully guarded as if it were of gold studded with diamonds and as tenderly cared for as if it were the offspring of royalty.

WALTON, of the INTERIOR JOURNAL and a colored preacher are engaged in a war of words.—Richmond Pantograph. Look here, you black republican, this is not your put in. We may intimate that Smith, of Mt. Vernon, is off color, because he is one mutton, but you shant do it, you ugly rascal, you. Smith is no more of a negro than you are.

THE court of appeals has settled the bank tax question by refusing to re-open the case. If it was fully satisfied originally that it was right this is eminently proper. Litigation and doubt were keeping money out of the treasury and materially affecting the banking business, which is not necessarily an evil one.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

G. B. COOPER, chairman of the democratic campaign committee, presents in another column of this issue some indisputable evidence, as if such evidence were necessary, that the republicans are running our fiscal affairs with a high hand, piling up expenses to create more taxes, already too high for the good we get out of them. The promises of retrenchment and reform made with such a flourish of trumpets a year ago were made only to be broken and the largely increased expenses are not a surprise to any but the gullible. Mr. Cooper's address ought to stimulate those who foot the bills to renewed effort to prevent republicans from getting a further foothold upon poor old Lincoln.

LINCOLN friends of old Charlie Moore may regret to hear that he is in durance vile in Louisville. The U. S. grand jury has indicted him for sending the Blue Grass Blade through the mails, which contained matter, the grand jury says, that "is so obscene, lewd, lascivious and indecent that it would be improper for a particular description to appear in the records of this court." Uncle Sam is a mighty bad man to project with and the Hairy Heathen has got his foot deep into it at last.

ACCORDING to the list filed by County Clerk J. F. Cummins for publication in this paper, but which was handed in too late for this issue, the road claims foot up $3,298.98. This is much more than usual, but not sufficient to raise the exaggerated report that went out concerning them, which stated that they were $8,000.

Look here, if you owe this office anything and there are nine chances to one that you do, come in court day and pay it. If you don't come, send it. We have waited until patience has ceased to be a virtue.

GEN. LANDRAM, the hero of two wars, the scholar and the gentleman, was barely alive when we heard from Lancaster, his doctors stating that he could not survive the afternoon.

NEWSY NOTES.

Atlanta was selected for the next meeting of the Episcopal convention.

The initiations within the year just closed were 63,845; total membership 790,795; total revenue $8,427,870.53; relief for the year $3,323,311.96.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Fred Ollie and Miss Mary Adams, both of the East End, were married at Elder J. G. Livingston's by that gentleman yesterday.

—John Young, aged 44, and Miss Veronius Williams, 36, both of the Waynesburg section, were married at William Morgan's Wednesday.

—The Kansas City Journal contains a column account of the marriage of Miss Mary Lee McCaleb Rochester to Mr. Charles W. Latimer, which occurred at the Christian church, Independence, last Thursday evening. The auditorium was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers. A solid mass of green around and extending to the rear of the altar formed a beautiful background for the fair forms that stood before them. A large heart formed of pink carnations and rosebuds hung suspended above the place where the bridal party stood in front of the altar. The floral heart was pierced with a white arrow. Cupid's bow of white carnations and smilax just above showed from whence came the dart. Instead of the conventional ribbons to reserve the seats for intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties, Southern moss was used to perform this office. Over the whole floral scene two silver candelabras shed a mellow glow, heightening the color effect and emphasizing the artistic grace of floral art. The bridesmaids were Miss Harriet Hocker, of Kansas City, maid of honor; Miss Henrietta McAlister, cousin of the bride, first maid; Miss Vira Venable, of Independence, and Miss Jennie Latimer, a sister of the groom. The bridesmaids and ushers approached the main aisle of the church from opposite directions in the rear of the church. The bride and groom followed in the same order, preceded by the little flower girls. The bridal party met at the altar, facing the audience in a semi-circle. When the ceremony of the ring was reached, simultaneously with the exchange of vows, Mrs. E. T. Packard rendered the beautiful and appropriate solo, "O Take My Heart." The music blended with the words of the ceremony making it doubly impressive. After the ceremony Rev. Maiden invoked a benediction of happiness on the bridal couple, and one of the candelabras was extinguished, suggestive of the happy union. The bride's grace and girlish beauty was greatly enhanced by the sweet simplicity of her costume, soft French organdy, rippling in filmy folds over an underdress of silk. The gown was cut in the last century style. The high collar and soft ribbon belt were fastened with maidenhair ferns. The flowing tulle veil, which completely enveloped her form, was caught up by a single pearl. Bride's roses veiled in maidenhair fern comprised the bouquet carried by the bride. Miss Harriet Hocker, maid of honor, wore white organdy over seashell taffeta. The skirt finishing was an Elizabethan ruche. The collar and belt of her costume were caught together with knots of "Break o' Dawn" carnations. The same pretty idea was carried out in the frocks of the bridesmaids. Their decollete corsages were finished with Elizabethan ruching. Each carried butterfly bouquets of "Break o' Dawn" carnations and ferns. Mrs. James R. Gudgel wore a smart frock of black and white twisted silk and black satin, trimmed with duchesse lace and jet. She carried Mermot roses. Mrs. James Latimer, mother of the groom, was attired in a rich black brocaded silk. She carried white roses. The assembled company, which was composed of the society people from Independence, together with many friends from a distance, in evening dress. Mr. and Mrs. Latimer left Friday morning amid showers of rice and flowers for a Southern tour, taking in the Atlanta exposition. They will be at home to friends at Independence after October 20.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. W. W. Bruce, of Hustonville, will preach at the Presbyterian church here Sunday morning and night.

—Elder J. S. Sweeney has for the 28th consecutive year been elected pastor of the Paris Christian church, by a practically unanimous vote.

—Elder George Darsie is lecturing on His Recent Travels in the Orient and it is hoped he will take in Stanford on his rounds even if the editor does break his leg every time he lectures here.

—The Memphis Commercial Appeal, of Monday, contains liberal quotations from Rev. W. E. Ellis' first sermon as pastor of the Linden Street Christian church in that city. It was on the sin of infidelity and the speaker was highly complimented.

—Dr. Joseph Bellou held a 10-day meeting at Albany, Clinton county, which resulted in 12 additions. It was right among Raccoon John Smith's kinsfolk, several of whom attended. Dr. B. baptized seven young ladies in a large spring.

—Dr. J. C. Hays had a letter from Rev. George O. Barnes yesterday saying that he and his troupe would arrive tomorrow and that he will preach at the court-house Sunday at 3 P. M. and 7:30 P. M. and after that, at night until further notice.

—Program of the Lincoln County Christian Missionary Convention to be held at Hustonville Oct. 19, 1895.

—Devotional exercises at 10 A. M.

—Address at 1:15 by Rev. W. L. Williams, subject "The Power of the Elders."

—Address 10:45 by J. T. Brown, "Preach the Word."

—Address 11:10, W. T. Brooks.

—Report of churches, 11:30.

—Linner, 12 o'clock.

—Devotional exercises 1:00 P. M.

—Address 1:15, J. L. Allen, "Individual Responsibility of Christians."

—Address 1:40, J. Q. Montgomery, "The Gospel for the World."

—Address 2:10, B. J. Pinkerton, "The Essential Need."

—Report of evangelist, 2:30.

—P. W. CARTER, Chmn.

—E. Thompson, of Missouri, bought five yearling jacks from W. L. Caldwell & Son for $500.—Advocate.

—J. G. Burnside of Garrard, sold to W. J. Gillispie 17 1,040 pound cattle at $3.85 and to A. I. & L. Gibbs 17 1,100-pounders at 4c.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO PHYSICIANS!

The undersigned committee will until Oct. 20 receive bids for a paper medical practice of Lincoln county, the county to be divided according to old magisterial districts except Stanford and Hubbell precincts will be combined and Stanford and Walnut Flat precincts combined, and bids will be received for these sub-divisions. The physicians are to furnish the medicines. File bids with county clerk.

DRY GOODS.

Danville, Kentucky.

Fall and Winter Stock Complete.

Everything in the way of Dress Goods, Wraps, Trimmings, Underwear, Hosiery, Blankets, &c., &c. Best stock we ever had. All kinds of goods are advancing but having bought our stock early we will make no advance, but really offer most goods cheaper than ever before. We hope to have you come down and see our stock, but if you cannot do so write us for samples.

OUR DRESS GOODS

Line is immense. No trashy goods at all. Even at 25c per yard we offer good, all-wool Serges, Novelties, &c., 36 inches wide. Mixtures and all plain colors. Novelties in Silk and Wool, Boucle, and Mixtures at 39c. A great line of 40-inch pure wool German Plaids for Waists and for Children's Dresses at 50c per yard. Finer plaids at 75c, $1 and $1.50 per yard. Plaids are immensely popular. Choice line of exclusive novelties at 75c, 85c, 1.00, 1.15 and 1.50; all our own direct importation from Europe.

BLACK GOODS.

Everybody seems to favor black and we have variety enough to please all tastes. Imperial Serges from 25c to 85c. Handsome English Coating Serges at 75c, 1.00 and 1.25. Storm and Cheviot Serges in ten styles of twill, all sellers. Mohair Secillians, Fancy Jacquard Mohairs, Mohair Crepons and Mohair Serges. Boucle in all qualities, in staple weaves, Armures, Henriettas, Cloths, Cords, Almas, Bengalines, &c.

500 NEW WRAPS.

We did not carry over a wrap from last season. All are entirely new. We have Capes and Jackets. Both are meeting with equal favor. We have a great line of Cloth Capes at 2.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00 and up to 20.00. Plush and Velour Capes, very "dressy," with fur and jet trimming, from 6.00 to 35.00. Strictly new style Jackets; cut in newest shapes with melon sleeves, ripple and coat backs, and made of newest cloths, ranging in price from 5.00 to 25.00. More than 50 styles. Our line of Wraps at 8.00, 10.00, 11.00, 12.00, 13.50 and 15.00 is especially attractive. A superb line of jaunty style Jackets for Misses of 12 to 18 years, made in latest styles at 6.00 to 12.00. Children's Cloaks 1.75, and up.

LADIES' UNDERWEAR.

Our leader is 100 dozen Ladies' Vests and pants made to sell at 50c, but on account of slight imperfection we bought them so we can sell at 25c. The pants are ribbed to knee and both are full size and equal to regular 50c underwear. Wool mixed and all wool vests, pants and union suits, 50c to 3.00. Extra good values in children's underwear.

CURTAINS.

Entirely new line of Lace Curtains, 35 new patterns from 1.00 pr. to 8.00. Swiss ruffled curtains 1.75 to 3.50 per pair. Silk Chenille Portières from 1.00 to Five Dollars each. We will save you money on these articles.

NOTHING better for a wedding present than one of our lovely Onyx tables, topped off by a beautiful silk shade banquet lamp. Danks, the jeweler.

WHILE carelessly handling a rifle Mr. Charles Renner was shot through one of his feet. The wound is a painful one and Mr. Renner will go on crutches for awhile.

PUT GEER, while practicing with the Centre College foot ball club, fell and broke his collar bone. He is at home at present, but a small matter like that doesn't bother him and he will soon be all right again.

SAM NEFF, the young son of Fred Neff, who lives near J. M. Carter's store, had one of his hands badly shot while loading a pistol the other day. Dr. Cook was called and found it necessary to amputate one of his fingers.

RWARD—Sheriff Newland has received notice from Gov. Brown that he has offered a reward of $200 for the arrest of Alex Rice, charged with the murder of Simon Higgins. We also learn that the family will pay for the arrest.

AN ENTERTAINMENT will be given by the pupils of Dr. Wm. D. Tardif, Jr.'s colored school at Walton's Opera House, Friday evening, Oct. 18. A rattling farce entitled "Too Much of a Good Thing," and military drill by 16 young ladies are the leading features. Music by Miss Lizzie A. Sinkler, pianist. Admission 15 and 25c.

OUR WILLIAMSBURG correspondent, who is also local editor of the Times of that place, recently referred to the fact that this paper had forgotten who is governor of Texas and called him Gov. Hogg.

THAT we are all liable to forget and make mistakes we observe that he refers to Kentucky's only democratic defaulter in 30 years as "Jim" Tate.

THEY have a judge in Chicago who is as jealous of the dignity of his court as our own Judge Sandiford, who threatened to fine Keg Mason, the clerk of Garrard, for taking his coat off in court on a hot day, and did fine a fellow here for addressing him while on the witness stand as "brother." The Chicago jurist sent one man to jail for answering "not on your life, judge," and another who responded to a question "nit."

MR. M. F. NORTH has opened his campaign and is making the welkin ring with oratory. He invited Mr. King to meet him on the stump and discuss the issue, but he recognizes the precedent established by Bradley, the head of the party, and makes himself conspicuous for his absence. Mr. North is doing his duty for the State and local ticket. Let every democrat do his and we shall have no more of radical misrule in this country.

A CAVE-IN of the skylight tunnel between Richmond and Livingston has made things lively on the Richmond Branch of the K. C. this week. All trains have to go and come via Rowland and they pass Lancaster so often that the entire population there that goes to see every train pass is kept at the depot all the time. A heavy force is at work on the obstruction and it will likely be cleared to-day.

DR. STEELE BAILEY announces that the next quarterly meeting of the Central Kentucky Medical Association will be in the Odd Fellows Hall, Lancaster, on Thursday, 17th inst., commencing at 10:30 o'clock A. M. Dr. Price, of Harrodsburg, will open the discussion on Pleurisy and its Differential Diagnosis. The section on the Progress of Practical Surgery will be presented by Dr. Harvey Curran, of Danville.

THE first woman in bloomers ever seen on Stanford streets showed up Tuesday.

She was the wife of G. W. Clark, of Chicago, and they were en route to Atlanta on their wheels. It took them 5½ days to ride from the Windy City to Louisville. Clark is a bridge jumper and for $100 was to dive from the Jeffersonville bridge when he was arrested and prevented. The woman created quite a sensation here. She had pretty well rounded limbs and old men and young gathered to see her off, after she had spent the night at the St. Asaph.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

M. F. Elkin bought of Adam Pence a bunch of hogs at 3¢c.

Lum Simons bought Carrie Onward, 2:14, for the low price of $25.

John Holtzclaw bought in Boyle a bunch of extra good two year-old cattle at 3¢c.

A few yearlings and a few good sucking mules wanted. J. W. Baughman, Stanford.

ESTRAY.—Red bull, will weigh about 600 pounds. Came to my place Sept. 28. James Messer.

Mule colts sold at Harrodsburg Monday as low as $6, a dollar above the service fee to the mare.

WALTON WHET.—I have a lot of this very fine variety for sale for seed. G. C. Givens, Stanford.

The Nicholasville trots were not a success financially or otherwise. The company lost $500 or more.

F. K. Tribble bought of various parties 18 good calves at an average of $12.75 and 30 stock hogs at 3¢c to 4¢c.

FOR SALE.—23 long yearling steers, average 850 pounds; strictly good. R. H. Bronaugh, Crab Orchard, Ky.

Constantine, 2:12, by Wilkes Boy, sold at Lexington Tuesday to Pete Dunea, of New York, for $7,100.

The Clinax says that Carithers & Beard bought 27 mules at $25 to $85. Many sales of mule colts were made at $15 to $40.

In Cincinnati cattle are stronger at 4.65 for good shippers; hogs are active at 4¢c for select shippers; extra sheep 3 to 3½; best lambs 4¢c.

Yo Tambien, one of the best race horses in the country, will be retired from the turf and bred. She has won over $100,000.

Sales of 150 good feeding cattle at 3 to 3½; 70 of 1,100 pounds at 2½ to 4 and weanling lambs at $36 to $50 are reported in the Winchester Democrat.

J. Monroe Lees's large stock barn in Bourbon burned, together with 17 fine jacks, two fine horses, and a big lot of feed. The stock was insured for $6,000 and barn for $500.

Came to my house several days ago, a sow weighing about 225 pounds, with three pigs. Owner can get them by paying for this notice and their keep. E. C. Gaines, Stanford.

Nine shares of stock in the Farmers Bank and Trust Co. will be sold at auction at 11 o'clock a. m. before the court-house in Stanford, county court day, 14th, T. L. Lillard.

A. T. Hunn, of Columbia, sold to Adam Pence 50 good yearlings at 3¢c. He also sold to Lyon & Allen, of the West End, 50 feeders at 3¢c and a bunch of 900 pound cattle at 3¢c.

Our Hubble correspondent was mistaken with reference to the Peyton land on Dix River. It was not sold until Wednesday, when Mr. M. Speed Peyton tells us he disposed of it to Frank Holtzclaw at $20 per acre. There are little over 60 acres.

There were between 1,200 and 1,500 cattle on the market Monday, more than have been seen in Richmond before in years, and fair prices were realized, varying from 2½ to 4 cents. Mules sold low, good ones reaching the top figure at $35. A feeling of confidence seemed to pervade everybody.

The tobacco crop in the Blue Grass section of Kentucky was not damaged to any great extent by the recent frosts. Nearly all the early tobacco had been cut and only the late crops were injured. The drought did not come early enough to injure the tobacco to any great extent. It will be about 75 per cent. of an average crop, but the quality is excellent.

Seven started in the great Futurity for 3 year olds at Lexington. Larabie won the first heat, but Oakland Baron, owned by R. G. Stoner, of Paris, took the next three straight and the purse of $21,000. Katrina Bell got second and Scourne third money, best time, 2:16. Star Pointer won the 2:11 pace, taking three out of four heats, best time 2:06.

The free for-all pace and the other good races on Wednesday's program drew a big crowd to Lexington that day. Robert J. was a hot favorite in the free-for-all, but the little gelding was not at himself and Joe Patchen won the race. There were five heats and the best time was 2:05, which is good considering the cold weather. Joe Patchen won the first, fourth and fifth heats; John R. Gentry the second and Robert J., the third. Coleridge came second in one heat but was behind the money. Nightingale won the 2:09 trot; Dentine, The West Stake and Rhett Soap, the unfinished 2:17 of the day before.

An enumeration just completed shows 627,072 voters in Indiana.

While Mrs. Chloria Cook, of Bowling Green, was milking, the cow fell over on her and fatally mashed her.

The two daughters of W. H. Evatt were killed and himself and son were seriously injured by kerosene explosion at Woodland, Ala.

"Boots" Patterson, "Pink" Streets and Perry Howard, all convicts, were seriously hurt by an explosion while working at a stone quarry at Frankfort.

Twenty-five years ago the total public indebtedness of the United States, national, State and local, amounted to $3,379,253,997, or $92.80 per capita. Now it is $2,027,170,546, or $32.37 per capita.

A jury at Winchester gave a verdict for $10,000 damages against the L. & N. for the death of A. J. Alumbaugh, whose friends sued for $50,000 and claimed that the conductor threw him from the train.

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

James Wilson, a brakeman on the Louisville and Nashville, was caught between the cars at Cumberland Gap and killed.

Mrs. Julia Ann Reed, widow of John P. Reed, and mother of Miss Josephine Reed and Mrs. Hubert McGoodwin, died at Danville, aged 80.

Miss Lizzie Goddard, of Burnside, Ky., took her first ride on the cars Saturday and died from fright. She was 16 years old and had always been afraid of the cars.

The Federal Veterans' Association met at Lawrenceburg Friday and had as guests of honor the Confederates and Mexican war veterans. Seven States and 44 regiments were represented.

Alex Camden was shot twice by Deputy George Coulter, who sought to arrest him, near Danville. Camden was wounded in five different places, but is still alive, with good chances for recovery. He was charged with disturbing a church meeting. The officer is a brother of Mr. T. A. Coulter, of this town.

Elwin Porter, son of Hon. W. L. Porter, of Glasgow, who attended Hoggott Academy at Danville last session, died Monday of typhoid fever. His brother, Robert, is down with the same disease. Deceased was a brother of Mrs. Minnie Porter Terry, who used to visit the Misses Owlesley here in her girlhood days.

A duel occurred at Maxville between two young cousins, John and Procter Sneedmeyer. They quarreled at a church door the night before, and after being separated, agreed to go out of the town limits and shoot it out. After stepping 10 paces they fired five shots at each other. Procter was probably fatally wounded.

Yo Tambien, one of the best race horses in the country, will be retired from the turf and bred. She has won over $100,000.
